

Hello Adoption Friends,

Welcome to the May 14, 2007 edition of the ThinkingOfAdopting.com Newsletter. In this edition I want to share with you some adoption news and information that I hope you'll find helpful for your adoption journey, no matter if you're thinking of adopting or you're an adoptive parent. The topics include:

1. Adoption Conference This Saturday & Sunday
2. Listen to Interviews with Dr. Jenista, Dr. Laurie Miller & Michelle Hughes, J.D.
3. What's going on with Guatemala?
4. Pull-Up Training Pants Reward Cards
5. Welcome New Subscribers

1) Adoption Conference This Saturday and Sunday

Looking for help & advice on raising your adopted child to reach his or her highest potential? If so, don't miss "Raising and Healing the Adopted Child" this Saturday and Sunday (May 19 & 20) at the Holiday Inn BWI Airport just south of Baltimore, MD. Sponsored by Project Katherine & ThinkingOfAdopting.com, this conference has outstanding speakers who are nationally recognized experts in adoption including Dr. Ronald Federici, Dr. Patrick Mason, Dr. Alla Gordina and more. There's still time to register, but time is running out. You can learn more about the conference - and listen to a recorded interview with Dr. Federici that you'll want to hear even if you can't make the conference - by clicking on the following link. I hope to see you there.

2) Interviews with Dr. Jenista, Dr. Laurie Miller & Michelle Hughes, J.D.

We're excited to be able to bring you three free interviews from speakers at last month's Joint Council on International Children's Services' (JCICS) 2007 Joint Council Medical Institute & Conference that took place in San Antonio, Texas. We interviewed Dr. Jeri Jenista who has reviewed over 20,000 referrals, Dr. Laurie Miller on the Health of Children Adopted from Ethiopia, and Michelle Hughes, J.D. on Race, Color and Culture in Adoption. You can listen to these interviews on the Thinking Of Adopting Podcast by using the links below:
